September 2018 Newsletter

Website: www.indianadaylilyirissociety.com

Greeting Gardening Friends,

What a busy summer we've had. John Everitt, Dan Howell, and Tom Bohn spent a number of hours digging, dividing, and then planting Jim Poor's daylilies. They will be coming to our annual August sale next year. About ten folks later returned to the Poor residence and dug, divided, and labeled Jim's iris which were sold at this year's sale. There were forecasts for rain on the day of the dig but fortunately most of the rain held off until the afternoon. We had a good sale although there seemed to be less foot traffic this year. Most of the donated daylilies were sold as well as many of the iris. Laurel purchased all the remaining plants to take to the southern Indiana flower clubs. The sale raised a bit more than $2900 for the club.

This month brings the annual NCAP daylily auction at First Friends Church. Look elsewhere in the newsletter for the list of NCAP daylilies and the folks returning them. There are pictures and descriptions of the flowers on our website, www.indianadaylilyirissociety.org. We will also be auctioning off nine iris sent by Chad Harris, our May speaker. Please find the list of iris he's sending elsewhere in the newsletter and find the ones you would like. We are starting with the auction in the morning and then having lunch afterwards. The club will be providing the tableware, condiments, drinks, breads, and meat dish, which Margi Appleget has agreed to coordinate. Please bring a side dish (along with a serving spoon) to share with the group. The church will open at 9am for set-up. We hope to start the auction at 10:30am.

As in years past, if you have extra plants (of any kind) from your own garden please bring them to share at our free plant exchange on the same day.

Our October 6 noon banquet will feature Karol Emmerich as our speaker. It will be held at The Library & Pub, 2610 S. Lynhurst Dr., Indianapolis. There is a $10 charge for IDIS members and $27 for non-members. You may pay at our September NCAP auction.

Finally, another opportunity to consider. We have been offered a free 10x10 foot space at the Flower & Patio Show next March in Indianapolis as part of their educational emphasis. The show runs for nine days, 10am to 8pm. Is this something we should pursue? Might you consider volunteering to staff the booth? Give it some thought and let me know what you think.

Thanks to all who've given of their time and energy to make our club activities successful. See you soon,

Rod Maust, President
